Urban plot for sale in La Romana

Land

La Romana

180 m²

Urban plot of 180 m² ideally located just a short distance from the center of La Romana, offering excellent potential for a residential or investment project. Positioned between two existing buildings, the plot benefits from a well-established environment, making the construction process more straightforward. Thanks to its layout and size, it allows for the development of a two-story townhouse, perfect for comfortable living, or the construction of two separate apartments, providing an attractive rental income opportunity. Its strategic location, close to shops, services, and all amenities, makes it a highly desirable area that combines convenience with strong appeal. A rare opportunity for investors or private buyers looking to bring a property project to life in a growing area. A great investment with strong potential.
